

Asset TV Small Caps Masterclass

December 2017

Commentator: Gillian Kemmerer

Ryan Thomes, Portfolio Manager,
Hotchkis & Wiley Small Cap Diversified
Value, appears on Asset TV. Excerpts are presented below:

Small vs. Large Cap Performance

The Russell 2000 has lagged the broader market through the better part of 2017. What has led to the underperformance, is it sector driven or is it driven by the current market environment or some combination of both?

Video Replay

Current Market Valuation

Market Valuation can be determined by how you define small caps. How does Hotchkis & Wiley use their research driven process to take advantage of market inefficiencies?

Video Replay

Impact of Tax Reform

What do you think the potential impact of tax reform will be on the small cap market?

Mutual fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Investing in smaller and/or newer companies involves greater risks than those associated with investing in larger companies, such as business risk, significant stock price fluctuations and illiquidity. The Fund may invest in foreign securities which involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods.

The Russell 2000® Index, an unmanaged index, measures the performance of the 2,000 smallest companies in the Russell 3000® Index. The S&P 500® Index is a broad based unmanaged index of 500 stocks, which is widely recognized as representative of the equity market in general. The Russell 1000® Index measures the performance of those 1,000 largest companies in the Russell 3000® Index, which represents approximately 92% of the total market capitalization of the Russell 3000® Index. The indices do not reflect the payment of transaction costs, fees and expenses associated with an investment in the Fund. The Fund's value disciplines may prevent or restrict investment in major stocks in the benchmark indices. It is not possible to invest directly in an index. The Fund's returns may not correlate with the returns of their benchmark indices.

As of September 30, 2018, Facebook, Apple, Amazon, Netflix and Google were not held in the portfolio. Equity securities may have greater risks and price volatility than U.S. Treasuries and bonds, where the price of these securities may decline due to various company, industry and market factors. Investing in value stocks presents the risk that value stocks may fall out of favor with investors and underperform growth stocks during given periods. Investing in smaller and/or newer companies involves greater risks than those associated with investing in larger companies, such as business risk, significant stock price fluctuations and illiquidity. All investments contain risk and may lose value.
